DETAILED ACTION

1. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Double Patenting

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claims 1, 8, 13, and 21 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 1 of copending Application No. 10/805,484. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because a later patent claim is not patentably distinct from an earlier patent claim if the later claim is obvious over, or anticipated by, the earlier claim. In re Longi, 759 F.2d at 896, 225 USPQ at 651 (affirming a holding of obviousness-type double patenting because the claims at issue were obvious over claims in four prior art patents); In re Berg, 140 F.3d at 1437, 46 USPQ2d at 1233 (Fed. Cir. 1998) (affirming a holding of obviousness-type double patenting where a patent application claim to a genus is anticipated by a patent claim to a species within that genus). “ ELI LILLY AND COMPANY v BARR LABORATORIES, INC., United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, ON PETITION FOR REHEARING EN BANC (DECIDED: May 30, 2001).

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

5. Claim24 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.
6. Claim 24 recites "wherein the system transmits the criteria that are being used by the first processor to the second processor." The specification does not permit a skilled artisan to make and use the invention because the above limitation is not described in a clear and precise manner. Furthermore, there are no drawings included in instant patent application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

8. Claims 1, 6, 8, 12, 13, 18, 19, and 21-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by U. S. Patent No. 6,088,455 to Logan et al.

With respect to claims 1, 8, 13, and 18, Logan et al. disclose a method for monitoring and analyzing at least one signal comprising: receiving at least one reference signal to be monitored (connection to a website, identification signal, col. 3, lines 30-40); creating an abstract of said at least one reference signal identification signal is compressed because the identification signal is compared to a compressed broadcast signal, col. 6, lines 1-10); storing the abstract of said at least one reference signal in a reference database (compression buffer 42, Fig 2); receiving at least one query signal to be analyzed (broadcast signal, Figs. 1 and 12); creating an abstract of said at least one query signal (digitized signal having a selected sample rate, col. 5, lines 45-55);

comparing the abstract of said at least one query signal to the abstract of said at least one reference signal to determine if the abstract of said at least one query signal matches the abstract of said at least one reference signal (comparator 50, Fig 2, col. 6, lines 1-10).

As to claims 6 and 12, Logan et al. also disclose permitting access to a secured area when the abstract of said at least one query signal matches the abstract of said at least one reference signal (see col. 8, line 45 to col. 9, line 26).

As to claim 18, Logan et al. also disclose the first input and the second input being the same (see Fig. 3 and col. 11, lines 1-6).

As to claims 19, 22, and 23, Logan et al. also disclose the second input being remotely coupled to the processor (Fig. 4 and col. 12, lines 14-21).

Allowable Subject Matter

9. Claims 2-5, 7, 9-11, 14-17, 20, and 25 objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

10. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 6, 8, 12, 13, 18, 19, and 21-24 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

3. Claims 1, 8, 13, and 21 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 1 of copending Application No. 10/805,484. This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

5. Claim24 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

6. Claim 24 recites "wherein the system transmits the criteria that are being used by the first processor to the second processor." The specification does not permit a skilled artisan to make and use the invention because the above limitation is not described in a clear and precise manner. Furthermore, there are no drawings included in instant patent application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

8. Claims 1, 6, 8, 12, 13, 18, 19, and 21-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by U. S. Patent No. 6,088,455 to Logan et al.

With respect to claims 1, 8, 13, and 18, Logan et al. disclose a method for monitoring and analyzing at least one signal comprising: receiving at least one reference signal to be monitored (connection to a website, identification signal, col. 3, lines 30-40); creating an abstract of said at least one reference signal identification signal is compressed because the identification signal is compared to a compressed broadcast signal, col. 6, lines 1-10); storing the abstract of said at least one reference signal in a reference database (compression buffer 42, Fig 2); receiving at least one query signal to be analyzed (broadcast signal, Figs. 1 and 12); creating an abstract of said at least one query signal (digitized signal having a selected sample rate, col. 5, lines 45-55);

comparing the abstract of said at least one query signal to the abstract of said at least one reference signal to determine if the abstract of said at least one query signal matches the abstract of said at least one reference signal (comparator 50, Fig 2, col. 6, lines 1-10).

As to claims 6 and 12, Logan et al. also disclose permitting access to a secured area when the abstract of said at least one query signal matches the abstract of said at least one reference signal (see col. 8, line 45 to col. 9, line 26).

As to claim 18, Logan et al. also disclose the first input and the second input being the same (see Fig. 3 and col. 11, lines 1-6).

As to claims 19, 22, and 23, Logan et al. also disclose the second input being remotely coupled to the processor (Fig. 4 and col. 12, lines 14-21).
